

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for speech control of an electrical device includes acoustically inputting information by spelling in an electrical device, and outputting by the electrical device a recognized character or a recognized symbol or a recognized character- or symbol sequence for acknowledgment of the character- or symbol input.

FILED: OCT 11 1980